CROSSFIELD AND DISTRICT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Munby and family motored to Lethbridge for the long week-end, and visited at the home of the latter's sister. Crossfielders will be very sorry to learn that Charlie Mayman is seriously ill and is a patient in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary.

Speaking of fish, looking over the Medicine Hat News, it was

RECORD AND HISTORY TO BE WRITTEN

CROSSFIELD — A letter has been received by Wm. Murdoch, president of the Crossfield Old Timers' Association, in which the Southern Alberta Pioneers' and Old Timers' Association state that they are making a determined effort to gather the record and history of all pioneer families originating in Southern Alberta (Twp. 39 to U.S. boundary), up to and including the year 1890. There has been a very fine committee chosen for this purpose, which will be assisted by 17 well-known district directors. Sample forms have been prepared indicating the information required. The difficult part is to see that each pioneer family receives a form.

The director for Crossfield is Mr. Frank Collicutt, who is anxious to glean any information re the 1890 pioneers, through the seen young Paul Bottomley, aged six, landed 11½ lbs. in two hauls, whilst fishing with his father. They were pickered and almost pulled the boy into the water. Poor father—all he could do was admire his son's fish. Paul used to live in town here and is Pat Lilley's younger brother.

FUWA Meets

CROSSFIELD—On Wednesday, Oct. 10, the local FUWA met at the home of Mrs. Frank Laut, with 27 members and several visitors present. Six new members were added to the membership. The program dealt with reports from executives, and the members heard a well-prepared bulletin on Education which was given by the president, Max Fox.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Roy Banta; vice-president, Mrs. G. Poynter; second vice-president, Mrs. Frank Laut; secretary, Lucille Konshub; treasurer, Margaret Mason.

A display of the members' handicraft was enjoyed and these will be sent to Calgary for competition in handicraft display in December.

Mrs. Bell, who is leaving for South Africa, was presented with a suitably engraved compact. Mrs. Fox tendered thanks for loyal support, and tendered best wishes to incoming officers. Lunch was enjoyed.

Afternoon Bridge Club Entertained

CROSSFIELD—Mrs. Chas. Fox entertained the members of the Afternoon Bridge Club in her home on Thursday last. Mrs. Hilda Smith, sister of Mrs. Casey, substituted for Mrs. Jack Hesketh, who has been indisposed with a bad foot.

The afternoon was a jolly one and a delightful lunch enjoyed. Top scores were received by Mrs. Lorie and Mrs. Casey.

Old Timers' organization here.

If anyone has any information, please be assured that it will be welcomed. Some of the pioneers may have passed on, but their struggles and successes would make history. You are asked to write or phone President Wm. Murdoch, or Secretary-Treasurer Evelyn P. Lilley, of the local Old Timers' Association.

The history of each pioneer family is to be woven year by year into the contemporary history of the country. When completed it is hoped to place copies in the local Calgary Museum and the principle colleges and public libraries, where they will be easily accessible for reference to present and future generations wishing to know the past connection of their families with the building of their country.

It is hoped that all will assist this effort.

Receives Diploma

CROSSFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lilley, together with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lilley, motored to Calgary on Friday last, where they met Mrs. S. Bottomley and attended the graduation exercises of Miss Priscilla Bottomley, who received her diploma and pin as nurses' aid, together with 250 other graduates, which was a record class. The ceremony was performed in First Baptist Church and the ladies of the congregation served tea in the basement at the conclusion of the function.

85 Guests

Attend Shower

CROSSFIELD — Approximately 85 guests attended an open miscellaneous bridal shower, complimenting Miss Hazel Ruddy, Mrs. Margaret Mason convened, ably assisted by a group of friends.

The shower was held in the United Church parlor, which was suitably decorated with yellow and white streamers, white wedding bells, cascading over deep blue curtained windows, and attractively clustered over the honoree chair to make a pretty setting for the occasion.

To open the evening's festivities a suitable song, "The Loveliest Night of the Year" was sung by a group of "song birds", followed by the rendition of a parody on "Sweet Violets", in which a witty and fascinating history of the honoree couple was woven with great skill, the humor of which was certainly appreciated.

Following the song: a miniature oil man, tin helmeted Earl Robinson, appeared on the scene with a wagon on which was perched a huge tinzel oil drum, mounted with a mechno derrick, bearing the letters "Pacific Petroleum". This was filled many times and presented to the bride-elect, who looked very charming in her novel dress, made of kitchen utensils, which was a humorous presentation from the conveners. Assisting Hazel, were her two sisters Anna, and Gladys. The gifts were numerous and lovely and very few duplicates were present. Hazel thanked each and everyone present, with a special thanks to those who had made her lovely shower a reality.

Mrs. L. Ahleman, aunt and Mrs. P. Ruddy, mother of the bride shared the honors at the tea urns and presided over a very attractive table of silver, centered with an arrangements of Autumn-toned spray mums.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. The oil drum and derrick was the combined creative art of Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Robinson.

A water valley was served by the hostesses. The oil drum and derrick was the combined creative art of Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Robinson.

Water Valley Old Timer Passes

CROSSFIELD—Rev. Ball, of Crossfield United Church, officiated at the funeral services of Mrs. M. P. Jordan, 63, who died in a Calgary nursing home on Sunday, Oct. 7. Mrs. Jordan came to Gleichen in 1911 and to Water Valley in 1917. She also lived in Drumheller for some time.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. R. Cockerton, Cochrane, Mrs. L. W. Salisbury, Mrs. Post, Ines, all of Water Valley; five sons: Joseph, Clifford, Kenneth of Water Valley, Willard and Dennis, Calgary; six grandchildren, and two brothers in Kansas City.

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 9.—(BUP)—One of the candidates seeking the Republican nomination for alderman in this city is Winston Churchill. He is not related to the British Conservative party leader.

SESSIONS OPEN IN SCHOOL, CALGARY

CROSSFIELD — The opening session of the regional conference of the Alberta Federation and Calgary Council of Home and School Associations, held in Crescent Heights School, Calgary, on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at 2 p.m., was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Heywood, Mr. D. Warren and Mrs. Roy Banta.

Home and School members were also present from Banff, Calgary, Carstairs, Strathmore, Rockland and Langdon.

Following the presentation of a model meeting, members attended a panel on either Executive Problems, Formation of Discussion Groups, or the Use of Films in Home and School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector McDonald and Miss S. Finigan joined them from Crossfield for the banquet, at which Miss Betty Duff, representing the ATA, spoke on how much more Home and School is needed today with our larger school units and the difficulty of the teacher making contact with all the parents. The H and S is the link of unification between the child's home life and school life.

The evening session was a panel discussion on "Home and School As Dad Sees It." Taking part were Pat Aumonier, past president, Calgary Council; Robt. Warren, superintendent of Calgary public schools; Alderman Leslie Hill, president Earl Grey H and S; W. J. Matheson, vice-principal Stanley Jones' school; and R. N. Talbot, executive secretary of the Canadian Cancer Society, Alberta Division.

The conclusion of this panel was that women were to vague and abstract in their sessions and

Funeral Held For E. J. C. Boake

CROSSFIELD — Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of E. J. C. Boake, Acme, who was killed Tuesday evening in an accident near Irricana, when his car hit a piece of road machinery. The late Mr. Boake was a well-known cattle-breeder. His two sons, Barry and Joe, lived in Crossfield for some time. Joe recently moved to Cremona.

Burial took place in Calgary in Queen's Park Cemetery on Saturday, Oct. 13, at 1:30 p.m., with Rev. C. D. Powell of Brooks officiating.

American Slang Tough For Chinese Student

ATLANTA, Ga. (BUP)—American slang is the most troublesome feature of the English language if you are Chinese, according to Hsiang Lin-ho, a student at Emory University here.

He said he still was embarrassed about having addressed a man with "Hi, babe."

In spite of the difficulties, the Chinese student said English is the easiest foreign language for an Oriental to learn.

more of the routine business should be handled by the executive, leaving more time for interesting and informative material.

Parody On "Sweet Violets"

This is a parody on the song "Sweet Violets" arranged and sung by "The Songbirds" at a pre-nuptial shower held for Miss Hazel Ruddy.

There once was a Texan who found a young miss In back of the counter where he asked for a book

On Geology and drilling and oil, And took her out dining to a high class cafe

That suited a girl of her charms, A girl that he wanted to take in his washing and ironing

And then it she did They could get married and raise lots of—

Sweet Hazel Joyce, sweeter than the roses, Chubby and rosy and dimpled and small, Curly-haired tykes with a cute Southern drawl.

The girl told the Texan that he'd better stop Or she'd call her father and he'd come a-hogging

Along in his little old Ford 'Cause someone was doing his little girl

Right a change and so that's why he said If you marry her, son, you're better off single

'Cause it's always been my belief But marriage will bring a man nothing but—

Sweet David Darwoods, sweeter than the cactus, Covered all over from head to toe, Covered all over with pe-trol-e-o-i-m.

The Texan decided he'd wed anyway, And started a fixin' for his wedding so

He sent Hazel home straight to her ma, To bake her a cake and give orders to her pa.

To Neil and to Hillyard and Jim To Anna and Gladys and all of the kindfol,

For she had no notion to be left-in the—

Sweet Hazel Joyce, sweeter than the roses, Osborne's was dull till the light it did dawn

And now she's a fixin' to live at Ft. St. John.

Welcome, Royalty

Canadians in Montreal and Quebec have shown such enthusiasm for the Princess and her husband, that we wonder why members of the Royal family don't come oftener to visit us.

The King of England is also the King of Canada. If his position in the old country ever became untenable he would have equal rights as Monarch in Ottawa as he now has in London.

While the King is permanently represented here by a Governor-General, in this age of fast flight, we think he would be much more appreciated by this country if he were to fly to Canada annually for the express purpose of opening Parliament. That is, provided his health is good, and that other conditions are right.

We welcome the heir to the Throne, not as a stranger, but as a Royal member of the family of which we are a part. We are glad that His Majesty's health is improving sufficiently that the Royal tour can be made, and hope that he will continue to gain in strength. Only if the Monarch's condition is satisfactory, as reported by daily bulletins from Buckingham Palace, will Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip be able to enjoy their Canadian visit with minds at rest.

Bakeries Convicted

There can only be satisfaction in the fact that the offending six western bakeries charged with restricting competition in order to keep the price of their commodity up, were given the maximum penalty the law allows, but satisfaction also that the presiding judge in the case, Mr. Justice Boyd McBride, minced no words in condemning the companies in scathing terms for what he described as misrepresentation, fraud, dishonest trickery and plunder.

But the most serious implication revealed by the trial in the evidence before the court is the disturbing revelation that the bread combine actually received aid and comfort from the Alberta department of trade and industry. The evidence showed that on one occasion an official of the department presided at a meeting where an Edmonton chain store official was persuaded to raise the price of the loaves his company baked to the level desired by the combine and enforced or imposed on the trade by it.

It was shown, in the evidence, that this official of the chain store thought this was a request of the government in consequence of the government's representative presiding. It was admitted that at one time the then secretary of the Alberta Bakers' Association, who was not a government employee, was permitted by officers above him in the department to use official stationery for threatening letters to bakers who were underselling the combine. These letters were even signed for the department of trade and industry.

The inquiry into the Bakeries' combine came as the direct result of demands made by the Liberal party leaders in Alberta in 1948. At a public meeting in Grande Prairie in July of that year, J. Harper Prowse, M.L.A., Liberal leader in Alberta, mentioned the illegal doings of the Bakery Combine and a telegram was sent to Ottawa following the meeting urging that an enquiry take place.

Every Day Living

Who is rated GREAT in your community? So often we hear Mr. so and so spoken of as, "a great man." What is the measure of human greatness? Power? Wealth? The ability to dominate? Some men and women have so considered them.

Service, however, is the real test of greatness. If there is one thing for which the name of Jesus stands, it is the self-giving life. In Jesus' day the first duty of hospitality was to supply water for the washing of the dusty and bruised feet of the guest, but the foot washing was done by the servant. In the upper room Jesus Himself washed the disciples' feet. Thus, with a deed of love, He portrayed what He meant by true greatness: the greatest among you is the servant of all.

Jesus taught and lived the revolutionary idea that the measure of human greatness is neither power, nor wealth, nor one's ability to dominate, but one's ability to serve. Service is the real test of greatness. It behooves you and I neighbor, to make a careful check when we begin to place ourselves among the great. For, unless our business, profession, or calling in life, serves man-kind and

The Successful Trapper

By T. W. PUE

Joe Andrews (that's not his real name) had had a successful trapping season. He had started early in the fall to lay out his string of traps and took justifiable pride in the way in which he was able to lure fox, lynx and muskrat and other animals to their death.

The trap line is nearly 100 miles long. Joe's home cabin sitting a few miles off the N.A.R. line, half way between Lac la Biche and Waterways was only one of his half dozen homes. He had smaller log cabins, a day's journey apart (on snow shoes) from one another and in between are the cleverly hidden traps.

T. W. PUE

Joe has to set the traps in such a way that he'll be able to find them again. Even when the trapped animal has died of starvation and frozen stiff and covered with snow. Mostly, however, Joe doesn't like to leave his trap line too long, because struggling animals, particularly muskrat if they don't (drown) will get away from the steel claws even if they have to leave behind a paw or a leg. Besides, in this inhumane business, Joe wanted to be as humane as possible and put the poor devils out of their misery with a well aimed .22 bullet.

FURS TO MARKET

Joe likes to go to Lac la Biche as often as possible but there's no sense in going without money. But if he's had a good fur catch he'll trek to the rail line and catch the once-a-week Northern Alberta Railways passenger train or one of the freights with the old half-passenger, half express car that trails on behind. He can always be certain of disposing of his fur catch to one of the friendly fur traders in town. There's the Hudson's Bay Company, Sam Wooll, Bill Hamilton and others who will pay spot cash for all furs they buy.

Joe takes his furs in with him, sells them for cash, and then goes around town shopping for the flour, sugar and salt he'll need to keep his six cabins provisioned until his next trip to town, which probably won't be for another three months. He always buys other items, too, such as tea, coffee, canned milk, breakfast cereals and other tasties which run out in a week or two and then he's back on a rigid flour and salt diet punctuated by fresh fish, birds and rabbits.

LATE TRAIN

One day last spring Joe came into Lac la Biche with a good fur catch. I'm not sure how much money he got for his furs, but he arrived in town on Tuesday and planned on taking the Wednesday train out. He applied half his fur receipts to groceries and provisions, which he stored at the N.A.R. depot for safe keeping until train time and left half the remaining cash with a local department store manager for safe keeping. He determined to have a good time until train time Wednesday night, with the remainder of the swag, but the train was late. And Joe ran into trouble as a result.

By Wednesday night he had spent the money he had taken out, and all day Thursday kept coming in to the store to draw out more of the cash he had left there for safe keeping. He didn't have far to go. The hotel is just across the street.

By Thursday night the train still hadn't arrived and Joe was out of money. So all day Friday and Saturday he had three-way trips between the hotel, the railway station and the department store. He sold his groceries back to the grocer and used the money to buy more drinks.

HOME AGAIN

By the end of the week poor Joe had no more furs, no more money, no groceries. I'm not certain how he managed to eat when the drinks ran out but Joe had no money left to buy a railway ticket, and no more groceries to sell back to the department store.

He did, however, have plenty of time to recall a lost week, because he walked home.

Well, next spring there'll be another catch of furs, and we hope for Joe's sake there is no big snowfall to make the train late.

FOOD CONTROLS

Dear Sir—During the last decade, engineering control prices on all the farmers' wheat and coarse grains lost the prairie farmers a billion dollars. President Hannam of the C.F.A. now declares himself as being opposed to all food controls. Isn't he consistent?

Some day the prairie farmers will wake up, and manage their own business affairs—free from Ottawa pussyfooting and political chicanery. I said "some day"—and time is ageless.

BUTTER SHORTAGE

Dear Sir—The Canadian government found it necessary to import 10 million pounds of butter to offset anticipated shortages in this country.

There are already shortages of whole milk in certain areas of Canada, and this trend is likely to develop still further.

Canadian farmers are going out of dairying, due partly to the lack of sufficient competent labor and also to the more profitable nature of other branches of agricultural production.

AFA Demands Showdown On Marketing of Grain

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture has called for showdown on the issue of the present system of marketing coarse grains through the Canadian Wheat Board.

SILK IN THE NEWS—Above black and cocoa brown print dress in pure silk for afternoon wear has a full gathered skirt. Sleeves and collar are trimmed with black braid.

The Federation threw its weight behind the system involving marketing through the government agency. But, at the same time, the AFA asked federal and provincial governments to let it be known to what extent they would be prepared to "actively support" the system.

The Federation called for a meeting of federal and provincial legal experts to clarify their respective constitutional rights and clear up "confusion among farmers and the grain trade."

Asking that the meeting be held in the near future, the Federation said confusion had resulted from Manitoba's decision to hold a plebiscite on the marketing system and Alberta's doubts about its constitutional rights to enforce the law.

The three prairie governments adopted complementary legislation before the federal government introduced the marketing system two years ago.

Attorney-General Gets Big Bill For Maid's Clothes

An Edmonton girl who charged $230 worth of clothing to the account of Mrs. Lucien Maynard, wife of Alberta's attorney general, in a city department store, was placed on 12 months' suspended sentence in police court Friday.

Josephine Buckley, 18, formerly employed by the Maynards, pleaded guilty to the charge of purchasing 35 articles on Mrs. Maynard's account. She told police she had a 17-year-old accomplice who disappeared with all the clothing.

CANCER RESEARCH LABORATORY TO OPEN OCT. 20, IN EDMONTON

Official sod-turning ceremony for the new Dr. John S. McEachern Cancer Laboratory in Edmonton, will be held on the morning of Saturday, October 20th, in conjunction with the Fall Convocation of the University of Alberta. It was announced this week in Calgary by R.N. Talbot, Executive Director of the Alberta Division, Canadian Cancer Society.

Frontmost at the ceremony will be Mrs. J. S. McEachern, widow of the late Dr. J. S. McEachern, of Calgary, who was one of the founders of the Canadian Cancer Society and in whose honour the new laboratory will be named. The Chancellor and Senate of the University and the Board of Directors of the Society will also attend.

The laboratory, which will cost over $200,000.00, has been made possible through the funds contributed by Alberta people to Annual Cancer Crusade, which this year realized over $196,000.00. It will concentrate, for the first time in Alberta's medical history, cancer research work under one roof, where necessary technical requirements will be available to research workers. It will be a building complete with project rooms for individual workers' experiments, isotope laboratory, operation and sterilization room, X-ray facilities, and much of the equipment modern science has provided for the researcher.

This project is possibly the most ambitious ever undertaken by a non-Government organization in Canada, and is made possible through the support the Canadian Cancer Society has received in its Cancer Crusades during the past five years.

The original cost of the laboratory was expected to be only $150,000.00, but increased costs have now raised the cost of the building, and the Society is making efforts to make the further funds available. These additional funds will be asked for during the 1952 Cancer Crusade.

SIX SAILORS DIE

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Coast Guard says two of six crewmen aboard the motor vessel "Sam D" are believed lost after the ship capsized and sank in rough Atlantic waters. At the time of the accident, the vessel was carrying guided missile supplies to a base in the Bahamas.

National Forest Conservation Week

In defence of our great natural resources—our forests, soil, water and wildlife—the Canadian Forestry Association, in co-operation with Governments, Business and Industry, is sponsoring a National Forest Conservation Week, May 19th to May 26th 1951. This campaign deserves the full support of every citizen of Western Canada.

Our Forest Resources. Forests are one of our greatest resources. They comprise 35% of the total land area of Canada, and play a large part in our national and individual prosperity, security and happiness. Soil and water conservation, flood control, prosperity on the land—the very goals we must constantly work toward in Western Canada—involve the conservation and proper use of our forests.

Forests and Agriculture. Forests are linked with the stabilization of agriculture in Western Canada. One of their most important functions is to supply water by protecting Canada's watersheds. A watershed with good forest cover functions like a blotter. It soaks up water from rain and melting snow. A great part of this stored water feeds the streams of underground water. Besides influencing water-table levels, most of the water for irrigation, power, wildlife, domestic use and recreation has its source in our forest lands.

Of Vital Interest. The people of the Prairie Provinces have a vital interest in the forests and what happens to them. It is their duty to practise and to advocate, not only during one week but every day of the year, measures that will protect our forests from fire; measures that will eliminate abuse and unnecessary waste; and measures that will provide wise and effective forest management.

The Line Elevator Companies, strong supporters of the Canadian Forestry Association, express the hope that "National Soil Conservation Week" will yield lasting results. Our forests, like our soils, are a great national trust. If we are to continue to enjoy their essential benefits we must see to it that they are protected and wisely managed.

CANADA SAVINGS BONDS

You can now place your order for the new Sixth Series of Canada Savings Bonds. They're going to get a hearty welcome from thousands of thrifty Canadians.

And no wonder—when you think of the handsome return they pay! For instance, the owner of a new $1,000 Canada Savings Bond will get $350 interest over its life of 10 years and 9 months—an average per year of 3.21% for this period. A $500 bond will pay $175 interest over the same period. Think what amounts like these can mean to you and yours!

This time you can buy up to $5,000, in any one name.

In the meantime your investment stands as an always-available source of cash to meet emergencies that might crop up.

You can get your Canada Savings Bonds through your investment dealer or bank—for cash or on easy instalments. If you work in an office or a shop, ask about the convenient Payroll Savings Plan.

Whichever you choose, don't delay. Place your order today for Sixth Series Canada Savings Bonds—now better than ever.

The Lighter Side

Curious

"Any questions about Washington?" asked the teacher.
"Yes'm," replied the little boy with freckles. "Did the G-man let the camera boys take his picture in the middle of the Delaware?"
"And was that real snow or confetti?"

Silly Question

Scene: Courtroom. Prosecutor turns to defendant. "Madam, on the day of the crime, while walking your dog, did you stop anywhere?"
The spectators sat tensely while she replied: "Sir, did you ever walk a dog?"

Public Property

A soldier parked an army jeep and started walking down the street. A policeman called after him: "Hey, buddy, drop a nickel in that parking meter."

"Put it in yourself," the GI yelled back. "That jeep belongs to you as much as it does to me."

Short Time

A social observer says that to be a caddy is bad for a young man because caddies get their money easily.

A caddy of our acquaintance indignantly denies this; he says that watching some of the people he had gone around with has undoubtedly shortened his life.

In Bad Shape

A credit reporting agency made the following report concerning a debtor:

"We have a report that this party has no property, either real or personal; no credit, either actual or potential; no prospects, either present or future; and no hope, either here or hereafter."

Something's Wrong

On their way home after a lively night in town, the two warriors on leave paused on a bridge and gazed intently at the dark river below them.

Suddenly one of them spotted

Communist Lose Norwegian Vote

OSLO, Norway (BUP)—The Norwegian Communist party, whose strength has decreased steadily since 1945, suffered a 50-per cent loss of support in country-wide municipal elections, early returns showed.

The Labor party, which heads the national government and strongly supports the North Atlantic Pact organization, won a large early lead in the voting.

Letter to Louisa

Dear Louisa:
I am a girl of sixteen and I am in love with a boy who is eleven years older than I. He goes with other girls but when we are together he seems happy. As soon as someone else comes around, he doesn't say much but keeps a close watch on me.
Do you think he really loves me or is just flirting?
He is a very nice boy in every way.

M. M. Undecided

Answer:
If he is serious he will let you know. Perhaps he is trying to decide whether you are too young for him or not as you say he watches you so carefully when others are around. Or it may be that he thinks he should let you get a little older before he tells you that he is serious.

A girl sixteen is very young to get married and she seldom knows exactly whether she is in love with the right man or not. Your taste in men is liable to change a great deal between the ages of sixteen and twenty.

Keep on being friendly but don't get too serious until you get a little older.

LOUISA

Dear Louisa:
My wife of a year thinks our company should be sufficient for the both of us. She says that we were satisfied to be together for a year before we were married so why should we wish to go out with other people now.
But to be perfectly frank I am getting awfully bored sitting home night after night with nothing to do but read or listen to the radio.

I like my home but I think I should appreciate it much more if I did not have to stay in it every night.
What do you think.

Husband

Answer:
No two people should try to live
to themselves for several reasons.
To begin with, they get into a rut and lose interest in other people and in what they are doing. If the friends that he and his wife make and associate with have a great deal to do with whether or not he is a business success.

People get a great deal more out of life if they learn to live easily and gracefully with other people rather than to crawl into their own little shells and shut out the world.
And last but not least, no matter how interesting two people are, they eventually reach the place where talking about "us" begins to pall if it is not interspersed with other little items.

So my advice is for you and your wife to associate with a group of young people that you like. It is not necessary to make whoopee every night but an occasional evening with the group at your homes or at a movie will be good for you both.

LOUISA

Prudham Sees Price Controls Dictatorial

CALGARY, Oct. 12. — (BUP) — George Prudham, Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys, says price controls at the present time would be an "invitation to dictatorship." Prudham reiterated the government's price control policy to members of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce. The policy was first announced several weeks ago in a nation-wide radio speech by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

"To set up a system of price controls in Canada would require an army of thousands of people which would further deplete our labor supply and contribute to higher costs," he said. "In my opinion controls would be tolerated for a time, in the event of all-out war, but I do not think the people of Canada would submit to rigid controls at this time." Prudham said Canadians should not adopt a "negative approach" by looking to the government to solve all their problems.

"We would soon find ourselves slaves to the state, a condition in which many millions of people in the world find themselves today," he said. "It would be an invitation to dictatorship."

Stubborn Hitch-hiker Ties Up Deliveries

VERSAILLES, Ky., Oct. 10. — (BUP) — A Lexington driver had a time of it with a stubborn hitch-hiker.

A laundry company driver said he first picked up the hiker when the man stood in the middle of a street and refused to budge until given a ride.

Once in the car, the hiker again refused to budge after reaching his destination. The sheriff finally had to extract him.
